THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER FOR PARENTS OF TEURLINGS CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

FEBRUARY, 2012

From Our Principal...

We are in a time of change. The responses at Mass have changed. The political arena is seeking change. The economy needs to change. Through these changes, the mission of Teurlings Catholic High School has never changed.

I am a huge football fan and watched as the Ragin' Cajuns won in dramatic style; what a game. I also watched in dismay as the LSU Tigers and New Orleans Saints lost in dramatic style. Whew, a tough two weeks of being a football fan in Louisiana. It is, however, Tim Tebow that the media has analyzed, critiqued, and judged broadcast after broadcast. Tim Tebow's actions are now being defined. Tebowing, according to tebowing.com, means "to get down on a knee and start praying." Catholics have been doing that for thousands of years. It's called genuflecting. Interesting!

We are in the midst of a comprehensive AdvancEd (formerly S.A.C.S.) accreditation process which is intense and involved. I am so impressed and proud of our faculty and staff for their unwavering committee participation in the process, led by co-chairs Dona Dugas and Josette Surratt, which entails numerous meetings before and after school, in-depth discussions, and detailed committee reports. All of this extra work is in preparation for the evaluation visit by the Quality Assurance Team on February 7, 8, 9 to renew our five-year accreditation.

As a witness to the needless death of unborn infants, Teurlings Catholic sent over forty students, teachers, and parents to the national Pro-Life March in Washington D.C. On campus we, along with our eighth grade guests from Sts. Leo-Seton, celebrated with a Pro-Life Liturgy as a visible sign of our support. The response from the students is a reflection of the spiritual formation at home and school bearing fruit.

Recently members of our Theology Department participated in a continuing education effort for catechist certification and certification maintenance at the Hofinger Conference held in New Orleans. In addition to the intellectual aspect of learning more about our faith, they are prepared to offer faith sharing opportunities to our students, faculty, and staff.

This February we celebrate Mardi Gras. As we all know, Mardi Gras marks the final day before the fast of Lent, a forty-day period of self-denial and abstinence. Lent is the season that prepares us for the Easter season, when Jesus died for our sins, was buried, and rose from the dead. Mardi Gras is the season of carnivals, parades, alcohol consumption, and overindulgence. I encourage you to put this event in proper perspective for your children and to help them better understand what the season of Lent is really about. Over the past few years during Mardi Gras, several area high school students have died in vehicular accidents as the result of alcohol. The response from students will be in direct proportion to the spiritual and behavioral formation at home and school.

Times change. Fads change. People change. Our mission, "To Channel His Spirit for the Glory of God," remains true.

ACADEMICS

Marty Heintz - Assistant Principal

It makes sense that students do better in their classes when the student attends classes regularly. Playing catch-up is never easy, especially if you are dealing with multiple classes and make-up tests, as well as material missed in class. It is much easier to understand how to work the math problem if you have watched the teacher do so on the promethean or whiteboard than it is to try and figure it out for yourself from the textbook. It is much easier to understand the hidden underlying theme in the novel when the teacher explains and points out examples than it is to read the book by yourself. It is much easier to learn the chemical theory through an experiment in class than it is to read someone else's notes.

As an accredited and state-approved high school, Teurlings Catholic must follow state mandates when it comes to student attendance. The state sets the maximum number of times a student can miss class and still receive credit, based on the total number of days in the school year. Currently, that maximum number of absences in a school year is set at 17. It is expected to decrease next year. What that means is that a student who misses more than 17 days in a class cannot receive credit for the class – even if the student has an “A” in the class. It does not matter if the absences were “excused” or “unexcused” and a doctor's excuse does not waive the absence. According to the state, an absence is an absence, no matter the reason.

Allowances are made only for serious illness, surgery or injury requiring lengthy hospital stays or recuperation at home. Also, school activities do not count against the absence total (retreats, field trips, athletic contests, Beta convention, etc.), but college visits, recruiting visits and related activities are not excused absences. Although this limit may sound harsh, some parishes in Louisiana allow only 10 absences per class in a school year.

Letters were mailed out recently to the parents of all students who had 8 absences or more in any class as of January 19. Again, a letter does not mean the student will not receive credit, rather it is a reminder of the policy so parents can take appropriate action with their children.

Please encourage and help your student to limit absences. If the student is truly sick, we'd rather he or she was not here. It is to your student's advantage, however, to schedule dentist appointments, family vacations, and other activities outside of school hours. It is always better to be here and listen to the teacher and get the information first-hand than it is to rely on second-hand sources such as another student's notes.

While we are on the subject of absences, just a reminder about the make-up policy. Students who are absent for one to three days are expected to take a missed test on the morning the student returns to school. Make-up tests are given at 6:30 AM Tuesday through Friday mornings. If a student is absent for longer than three days, the student is required to meet with the teacher on the first day back to discuss arrangements for making up work. Any student missing the day prior to a scheduled test is expected to take the test with the class if he/she returns to school on the scheduled test day. Finally, students are responsible for all work missed in classes, regardless of the length or reason for the absence, including all school-related absences.

If you have any questions about our attendance or make-up policies, please email me at mheintz@tchs.net.

“What is” the Brainiac Challenge?

On February 25th at 2:00 at the New Orleans National WWII museum, Mrs. CarrieAnne Ledet's students in TCH Quiz Bowl will compete in a televised tournament. We have a team of 12 student participants and 4 chaperones representing Teurlings Catholic. The tournament will air on Cox TV 3 weeks later. Accommodations will require 4 or 5 hotel rooms. If you can sponsor a room @ $120 within the area, to help them remain close to the tournament, please contact Aline Norwood in the Development Office by February 5th.

Pro-Life March

Washington D.C. ~ January 20-24, 2012

Junior Class Adopt-A-Family

Thanks to all who participated in this year's junior class project. Over eighteen hundred dollars was raised for this very meaningful cause. Representatives from St. Peter's Church (the parish who initiated the project and delivered the gifts) said when the gifts were delivered the family was completely surprised and overcome with gratitude. The children were just as excited about the cards our juniors had made as they were with the presents. The father, convalescing from brain surgery, raised his head to see all the excitement. Your generosity truly gave this family a Rebel Christmas they will never forget.

Righteous Rebels

This column is designed to recognize the accomplishments of our students in the areas of academics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities at school or around the community. Parents, teachers, coaches, sponsors, moderators, and pastors are invited to "brag" about a student by sending information to Maria Hanes in the Admissions Office - Fax 234-8057 or email mhanes@tchs.net. Spread the good word!

WE WON!!!
THANK YOU!

With the support and tremendous efforts from our students, parents, faculty, alumni, benefactors, and friends, Teurlings Catholic High School won the Albertson's Community Partners Challenge! The $25,000 check was presented to Teurlings Catholic's Development Director Aline Norwood and Principal Mike Boyer. The money will go towards the completion of the athletic complex. This facility will be used annually by hundreds of student athletes and will support the school's physical education program as well, which is an important part of the academic core curriculum. An added bonus would be the availability of use for five junior high schools and local clubs of the area thereby strengthening the entire community that is Teurlings Catholic High School. We would like to extend a sincere "THANK YOU" to everyone who helped by voting for our school!
