THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER FOR PARENTS OF
TEURLINGS CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

F E B R U A R Y , 2 0 0 5

From Our Principal .

As a witness to the needless and horrific deaths of unborn infants, Teurlings Catholic sponsored a "Walk for Life" on January 24, 2005. The march from the TCH campus to the Diocese of Lafayette was a visible sign of our support of the Church's position on Pro-Life. Over 1600 students from fifteen Catholic schools participated along with many people from different civic communities. This event followed the generous contributions our students and parents made through the fund drive on campus to aid the Tsunami victims. The positive and loving response from our students reflects their deep spiritual development.

In February, we celebrate the season of Mardi Gras. As we all know, Mardi Gras marks the final day before the fast of Lent, a forty-day period of self-denial and abstinence. Lent is the season that prepares us for the Easter season, when Jesus died for our sins, was buried, and rose from the dead. Mardi Gras is the season of carnivals, parades, alcohol consumption, and overindulgence. I encourage you to put this event in proper perspective for your children and to teach them what the season of Lent is about. The response from the students will be in direct proportion to the spiritual formation at home and school.

The spring semester brings many extra-curricular and curricular activities into full focus. Basketball, baseball, soccer, softball, track and field, bowling, wrestling, tennis, golf, dancing, cheering, speech tournaments, quiz bowl, math tournaments, academic pep rally, passion play, prayer service, Rebel Revival, FCA meetings, retreats, junior ring commissioning, tryouts, elections, prom, liturgies, graduation, and examinations. I encourage you to come out and support our students in these activities. The time they commit to their teams and groups and to this school is a great sacrifice. These students must carefully balance a full class load, homework, social time, AND practice/game/performance time. Disciplined study habits are required to maintain success in the classroom. Encourage your child to stay focused, and help them manage their time wisely.

I hope that many of you had the opportunity to attend the school play, "Lucky Stiff." Director Cody Daigle, Speech Coach Jossette Surratt, and the student cast and crew did a fantastic job with the musical. This was the eighth school production, and many on campus believe this to have been the best.

In one week in January, the school play Lucky Stiff was reviewed in the weekend section of the Daily Advertiser; the TCH Right to Life March notification was posted in the newspaper; and the girls and boys basketball teams were both ranked number one in the state in the Louisiana Sportswriters poll listed on the sports page. What a great compliment to the efforts of so many.

DISCIPLINE

Terri Baudier - Assistant Principal

Attention Senior Parents!

Can you believe that it is already February? Time is going by so fast for everyone, especially for our seniors. I truly hope that the rest of their time as senior leaders here is as meaningful as the first half. I know as parents it is hard to deal with the fact that these wonderful special years are coming to an end. Like you, I want to make sure they have all the necessary tools to be successful in life as they move on to another phase. Please make sure that you stay on top of all the many activities, and functions that take place. Sometimes seniors get the attitude of "it's over" before it actually is over and then they run into some problems. As parents, please make sure that your child follows all of the rules until it is really over in May. If you have questions concerning any of our activities, please call us anytime.

Attention All Parents!

I just want to remind you that the new K-12 Planet program is a wonderful opportunity for you to check your child's discipline record. Three infractions of the same nature will result in a Saturday School (i.e.: three hair infractions or three food/gum/drink infractions). If you are not clear about an infraction or need more information, please call me @235-5711, ext. 102.

Senior Luncheon

Seniors enjoyed a Christmas lunch & wacky awards were given out.

Reminder: Please call or fax the school before 8:30 if your child will be late or absent from school. Any student who checks in after 7:50 a.m. is considered absent from the first hour class. It is important that we know when students have permission to be absent or late from school, before we have to call to make sure your child is safe and at home.

Reminder: Students attending the Sweetheart dance should check the Student/Parent Handbook for the dress code and code of conduct while at the dance.

ACADEMICS

Marty Heintz - Assistant Principal

Parents, have you taken a good look at the calendar as it relates to the rest of the school year? If so, you may have noticed that we had a relatively short period between Christmas break and Mardi Gras (four weeks), then we will have six weeks between Mardi Gras and Easter and eight weeks between Easter and the end of the school year. Ok, so you did notice but you may have no idea why I find this significant.

In the course of a normal school year, when Easter falls sometime in mid to late April, we have a long stretch of school days before our Easter break with only a few weeks until final examinations. To a teacher, school administrator, or student, this usually translates into a rough period early in the semester and a nice, quick end to the school year. This year, however, with an early Easter, the opposite may prove to be true. No one should have time to get tired of school, bogged down, or otherwise distracted between the Christmas break and Mardi Gras holidays. Instead, that long stretch of eight weeks at the end of the year will seem like 800 for both students and teachers alike. Add the beautiful spring weather, and it will be hard to keep students focused on schoolwork.

From my experiences as a teacher, parent, administrator, and, somewhere way back there, a student, I can tell you that academically, the third quarter of the year is generally the toughest. We usually have that long stretch of uninterrupted school days coupled with the busiest time of the year for both extracurricular activities and athletics. (Think about the school play, Right to Life March, basketball, baseball, softball, track, tennis, soccer, golf, bowling, district rally, Beta convention, dance team finals in Orlando, Prom, Aca Pep, field trips...I could go on and on.) By the end of the quarter students are tired of school and are busy looking forward to the end, and due to activities and athletics, they have virtually no free time. You can see why the grades often suffer if academics are not the top priority.

This year I anticipate the usual third quarter slump for many of our students. I am scared, however, that instead of seeing the final, mad dash to the finish line that many of our students usually pursue (or are forced to pursue) to finish with the grades they and parents expect, we'll see spring fever and apathy – both of which translate into lower academic averages during the fourth quarter.

My simple advice? Stay on your students. Make sure there is no third quarter slump. See that study times are still enforced, even though activities are ratcheted up and everyone is tired of school. Encourage your student to keep working. Make sure there is also enough time for rest and sleep, because a tired student is much more likely to bog down academically.

As parents, you have an excellent opportunity unfolding this quarter when it comes to tracking your student's progress. You can now simply log on to K-12 Planet and check grades weekly. Not only will you see a running average of the grade in a class, but you will also see the performance on individual assignments and tests. You can tell if that 79 C came from poor tests or a lack of homework and deal with the situation more effectively.

If we all (parents, teachers, administrators) keep encouraging our students, monitoring their progress, and refusing to accept excuses for mediocre performance, we will have an excellent end to the 2004-2005 school year.

If you are new to TCH, you've probably never seen anything quite like our Academic Pep Rally. Students who achieved a 3.0 or better for the first semester will be honored in a two hour extravaganza of entertainment, awards, and prizes. We invite you to join us on Wednesday, March 16, at noon in the RebelDome as we honor our students for their academic achievements!

Outstanding Teacher/Supporter Awards

On Sunday, January 16, the Diocese of Lafayette recognized outstanding teachers and Catholic school supporters from throughout the diocese. Teurlings is proud of our 2004-05 representatives: Teurlings Catholic Teacher of the Year, Coach Heath Whittington and Catholic School Supporter of the Year, Mrs. Linda Woodson Doherty.

Heath Whittington, often referred to as "Coach Whit" is in his third year at TCH. He teaches Physical Science at Teurlings and serves as an assistant coach of football and baseball. He also moderates the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and can be called on at a moment's notice to lend his voice and guitar to various activities on campus. Coach Whit taught for six years prior to coming to Teurlings and served as the head football coach and head baseball coach at Westminster Christian Academy. He is a 1994 graduate of Lambuth State University in Tennessee, where he was a member of the baseball team. He is a native of Gonzales where he graduated from East Ascension High School. Coach Whittington and his wife Liza are the parents of two sons, Bailey, a student at St. Genevieve, and Brooks.

Academics, athletics, and extracurricular activities at Teurlings all benefit from the willing service of Mrs. Doherty. A tireless worker on behalf of TCH, she is in her second year as a volunteer teacher. In addition to teaching an American History class, she helped implement and is teaching our first Honors Civics class. Mrs. Doherty was also a finalist in 2004 for the Lafayette Education Foundation Teacher of the Year award. Her support of our athletic programs is not limited to her favorite sport, football, but extends into all areas. She can be seen working in at a ticket booth, helping at a concession stand, and vocally cheering the Rebels on to victory. Anyone who attended the Teurlings Speech and Debate Tournament in October saw Mrs. Doherty manning the concession stand for the two days of the tournament, and those students who attend the state Beta convention in also benefitted from her volunteer spirit. Mrs. Doherty, who is married to Coach Mike Doherty, holds degrees from LSU and Newcombe College and graduated from the Loyola Law School in 1976. She has been active in the Lafayette business and political communities.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

My child didn't do as well on the tests as I think he should have. What can I do now?

First, talk to your child. Was he surprised by the score or does he think it accurately reflects his knowledge? Can he think of a particular reason why he might have done poorly on the test? Was that the day he came home with the flu?

Ask your son if he understood the test and why it was given. Did he run into trouble budgeting his time? Was there a particular section that was difficult even though he knew how to answer the rest of the questions?

If he doesn't have an explanation for his low score, ask him how he prepared for the test. Would it have helped if he'd studied class notes? Reread the textbook chapters? Were there review sessions he could have attended?

If you're not getting straight answers, or if your child just doesn't know the material, ask for a conference with your child's teacher. Do the scores reflect what the teacher sees in class?

If there is a large difference between what the teacher sees and what the test shows, try to figure out together what might have gone wrong.

You and the teacher may decide that other steps should be taken to make sure your child has the help he needs to do his best in school.

Email sent 1/18/05, to Maria Hanes

Dear Maria,

Just a note to tell you how awesome I thought the Teurlings dance team did at the contest this weekend. I only saw the hip hop routine, and I just loved it - costumes and all! (I usually hate hip hop, but they [the dance team] changed my mind about it!!!)... I didn't think there was any dance as good as that.

Thanks,

1. Adopt a Family - Teurlings Catholic High School adopted 6 families this Christmas season. Students and staff collected money and went shopping to buy necessities and gifts needed by the families. Students then delivered gifts to the families and were amazed to see the looks on their faces when they received their gifts. The event reminds us all that the Season of Christmas is all about love and giving to one another.

2. Senior Retreat - On January 9-10, 2005, the senior class attended their senior retreat in Dry Creek, Louisiana. The theme was "God is Now." Seniors arrived at Teurlings for 6:30 am and attended mass at St. Elizabeth Seton Church. After donuts and milk they loaded the buses for Dry Creek. Memories were made along the way and lots of sleeping. The students were then greeted by Mrs. Badeaux, Ms. Dugas, and Mrs. Boudreaux. After unloading their luggage, the seniors were divided into groups and began their first station. At the camp, sessions included a high ropes course, low ropes course, guest speaker, Tim Keefe, a theme skit and the making of Mandalas. For our night session, the seniors were in for a special surprise - Christian singer Kelly Pease performed a concert while spreading the Lord's message. When the surprise was revealed, the looks on the faces of all seniors were priceless. They were so excited to see Kelly in person. After the concert, the seniors processed to a bonfire by a lake. The scene was beautiful - a cross reflecting on the water, a bonfire, and Kelly Pease singing. The senior class had a wonderful time of bonding, renewing friendships and forgiveness.
