THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER FOR PARENTS OF TEURLINGS CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

O C T O B E R , 2 0 0 8

From Our Principal...

Our students were in elementary school when the tragic events of September 11, 2001, unfolded before their eyes on network television. Surely, we all thought, we had just witnessed the greatest disaster in American history. Our nation called us to unite in prayer. The aftermath of Hurricane Katrina brought our nation's greatest disaster just miles from our own doorsteps. Our nation called us to unite in prayer. Hurricanes Gustav and Ike brought damage to our own community and, once again, to those just miles from our doorsteps. We have been called to unite in prayer for those who lost their lives and are suffering.

Because of the two hurricanes, we missed a total of five school days. We will make-up two of those days on October 13-14, two days in which the students were not scheduled to report to school. On October 13, we will run an early dismissal at 12:40 p.m. in order for teachers to prepare for the Parent-Teacher Conference Day. On October 14, we will run a regular school day. We will wait until the end of the hurricane season to determine what we will do about the remaining three school days missed.

Our administrative computer package, RenWeb, proved to be very valuable in communicating to families during our recent storms. If you have not given the school a valid e-mail address, I urge you to do so as soon as possible. That e-mail address will not only give you access to the RenWeb system to check grades, but will give the school a means to communicate directly with you. We are also collecting the e-mail addresses from our students to be used as another tool of communication.

While our nation came together in a unified stance, TCH Rebels from the ages will gather together as we celebrate Homecoming 2008. I hope that you have a chance to witness the enthusiasm and energy that a homecoming brings to a school community. Whether you graduated in 1960 or 2008, or somewhere in between, you are a Rebel for Christ and a Rebel for life.

Communication is the action of giving or exchanging information. This publication, Rebelation, is one of the many tools we use to communicate to our school community. On October 13, we will hold a Parent-Teacher Conference day. All teachers will be in their classrooms from 2:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. to meet with parents about the first quarter grades of our students. This is a great opportunity for parents and teachers to communicate with each other and structure a format for success for each and every student.

As a school, we work very hard to recognize and communicate the many wonderful and exciting achievements of our students. We also work very hard to have discipline and structure and we will communicate when the desired outcomes are not met. This letter highlights several opportunities that parents have to receive information from and communicate with Teurlings Catholic. I hope everyone takes advantage of the many opportunities to stay informed about the TCH lives of your children.

DISCIPLINE

Bruce Baudier - Assistant Principal

Parking

At this time, there are approximately 25 parking spaces available in the back/baseball lot. As driver's licenses are attained, students should go to Mr. Baudier for a parking tag. When all spaces are gone, a waiting list will be started. We understand that everyone wants to drive, and I thank you for patience and understanding.

Homecoming

The Homecoming dance, by its very nature, is a special high school event. It usually entails getting a new outfit, going out to eat, and getting pictures taken; all part of a fun-filled evening. Parents are reminded to help their sons/ daughters get the evening started right by making sure the dance attire guidelines are adhered to. So I am letting parents know now that if a dress is not moderately cut, the student will not be let in. Plunging necklines or deep "V" cuts in the front of a dress have no place at a Catholic high school dance. It is very embarrassing to have a young lady come to the door with a top that is not appropriate. If a dress is lower than the waist in the back or shorter than four inches from the knee, the girl will not be let in. We do allow strapless dresses as long as the top is high enough to cover appropriately.

If a boy invites a girl from another school, it is his responsibility to relay this information to the girl. Our dress code is on page 41 of the Student/Parent Handbook. Please make sure you monitor what your child buys and wears to the dance. In order to be consistent, it is our decision on what is appropriate, not the opinion of 670 parents. Please call me with any questions or concerns.

A common sense motto: "If you have to question it, don't wear it."

Breathalyzers

Parents are asked to speak with their sons/daughters about the inherent problem of alcohol consumption. Quite often, Homecoming and Prom provide the opportunity for students to drink. Since drinking is not allowed, prior to entering the dance, students will be required to use the breathalyzer to check if they have been drinking. During the dance students may be checked again with the breathalyzer. I anticipate and expect all "negative" indicators. A "positive" indicator will result in the parents being contacted. They will then be asked to pick up their son/ daughter and a one day suspension will follow.

We all want students to have a fun and eventful evening. Therefore, we are again asking parents to speak with their students regarding this aspect of Homecoming.

ACADEMICS

Marty Heintz - Assistant Principal

"Please, I need help getting my child on track." "I don't know what to do to help my son with his schoolwork." "How do I approach my daughter's teacher because her grades are bad?" "What do you recommend about tutors? Should we get one?" "My son says EVERYONE is failing the class." "My daughter never seems to have any homework to do." "My son says his teacher doesn't like him."

That's a sampling of the most common questions and comments I get from parents, especially at the beginning of the school year. I'm sure many of you are interested in the same information, so let's look at them one at a time.

"Please, I need help getting my child on track." – The answer to this one greatly depends on your child's individual needs; however, it can also pertain to all teens. First, make sure your student knows schoolwork is a priority; it comes before computers, TV, texting, and even extracurricular activities. Let him/her know your expectations and then follow through by checking RenWeb and monitoring his/her grades. As the parent, you should take action if you notice a pattern emerging when homework assignments are missed. Third, every teen, just like younger students, needs a set time and place to do homework and needs a routine that provides sufficient sleep and adequate nutrition.

"I don't know what to do to help my son with his schoolwork." – The items listed above should be your first steps for this one too, followed by a simple look at the teacher's class policies and syllabus given to your student at the beginning of the school year. In addition to grades, homework assignments are posted on RenWeb, so you can keep up with what your student is doing on a weekly basis. Finally, if you need more help, email the teacher and ask for suggestions.

"How do I approach my daughter's teacher because her grades are bad?" – I hope your daughter talked to the teacher on her own as a first step. After all, she is in high school now and should take some responsibility herself. Assuming she did, you can proceed to contact the teacher if the situation does not change or if you still have questions. You know the old saying, "you catch more flies with sugar than salt"? I tell students this saying applies to dealings with teachers, I tell teachers it applies to dealings with parents, and I tell parents it applies to dealings with teachers. Send an email to the teacher and ask what your daughter can do to improve her grades. It's a great way to initiate communication with the teacher and get positive results. If you do not receive a timely and effective response, call me (ext. 103), Mrs.

Proctor (ext. 108) or Coach Rohm (ext. 114) if it is an academic problem, or Mr. Baudier (ext. 102) if it is a behavior problem or discipline issue. We will always ask the parent to contact the teacher first; we are here for parents and teachers alike.

"What do you recommend about tutors? Should we get one?" – Again, this has to be determined on an individual basis. Some students do well with a private tutor, some benefit more from our math tutoring sessions after school, and some work best with a peer or a parent. I recommend you speak with your child's grade level guidance counselor, as well as the teacher, before hiring a tutor.

"If you check grades on RenWeb and see any '0' grades or recognize a pattern of low class work grades, you'll know a problem exists."

"My son says EVERYONE is failing the class." – OK, I can definitely tell you this one is false because we, as an administration, would not allow EVERY student to fail a class. Kids exaggerate, sometimes to take the focus off their own low grade. Occasionally, the results of a single test might not be that great, but there is no class where a majority of students are failing.

"My daughter never seems to have any homework to do." – Homework is assigned and reported on RenWeb. Even if no written homework is assigned, high school students should be reading and reviewing notes and textbook chapters every night. I check grades on a regular basis, so I know some students simply do not complete some or all of the homework assignments. If you check grades on RenWeb and see any "0" grades or recognize a pattern of low class work grades, you'll know a problem exists. Most times, students are required to finish at home what they didn't finish in class. In other words, there are always homework assignments!

"My son says his teacher doesn't like him." – I don't know why, but sometimes students seem to think a teacher doesn't like them because the teacher corrects behavior, grades papers, and performs other routine "teacher" tasks. While occasional personality conflicts occur, most of the time it is just a misguided student perception. Teachers deal with 130-175 students a day and rules have to be consistent in the classroom and enforced. Let your son know the teacher is not singling him out. Encourage him to speak to the teacher in a positive manner. Try, "I'm really trying hard, but can't seem to catch up (do better on the test, solve the equations, comprehend the reading assignment, etc.). Can you help me figure out what I am doing wrong?" It really does work. Of course, if the perception continues, it is time for you to call the teacher so together the two of you can figure out the root of the concern.

TOUR de FORCE

We are very proud of our faculty and staff. Many have achieved status above and beyond the call of duty; all are terrific with the students. This column is designed to feature accomplishments of those faces on campus.

Congratulations!

Roberta LeBlanc has been selected as a "High School Finalist" for the 2008 LATM Outstanding Mathematics Teacher Award.

Thanks to Quenton Mcconnell 12th who works behind the scenes every morning before school and each afternoon after dismissal to raise and lower the flag in front of school. Casey Elkins 11th assists with the flag when needed. Eagles have earned this highest scout honor ranking by demonstrating service and leadership as well as completing an extensive service project that the scout plans, organizes, leads, and manages. Other Eagle Scouts on campus are Andrew Brown 11th and Ben Boudreaux 12th. The title of Eagle Scout is held for life, thus giving rise to the phrase "Once an Eagle, always an Eagle".

Email received by Mrs. Adrienne Brame on 9/15/08 from a former student:

Mrs. Brame,

...I thought it may be of interest to you that someone asked me today if I was Jewish. We were having a class discussion in my communications class about symbols. Somehow we ended up on the topic of Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah.

Then the teacher said that she grew up with many friends who were Jews and attended many of these celebrations. She then proceeded to ask who the Jewish think that Jesus was, and what is that hat deal that the men wear. I answered these and a couple of other questions about "Jewishness," which led my teacher to ask if I was Jewish. I proudly said "No, I am Catholic," and at the same time said to myself, "I had an awesome Old testament/ Jewish tradition teacher."...

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Anna Proctor & Milton Rohm

• On Wednesday, October 15th, all 9th and 10th grade students will take the PLAN test. This is a Practice ACT. Coach Milton Rohm will meet with all 9th and 10th grade students prior to the test. This is not only a great opportunity for students to practice ACT testing skills, but also helps to determine students' strengths and weaknesses. These scores will be used to determine if students can be placed into honors courses.

• On Wednesday, October 15th, all 11th grade students will take the Practice SAT test. The SAT test is a college entrance exam used especially for students wanting to attend college out of state. Taking the Practice SAT is a great opportunity for our 11th grade students to practice their test taking skills. Also, students who do exceptionally well on the Practice SAT are entered into a scholarship competition called the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test or NMSQT. Mrs. Proctor will meet with the 11th grade students prior to the test to distribute practice questions and information about the test.

• Mrs. Proctor will also meet with the 11th grade students to distribute an information booklet for juniors to refer to during the school year. All juniors are expected to take the ACT test at least once or twice during the school year. Students can register for the ACT at www.actstudent.org. Juniors will also be given a copy of their high school transcript and their TOPS transcript. These transcripts can help students determine what they need to make this year to improve their grade point average and where they stand for TOPS at this point in time. Parents are encouraged to review this information and call the guidance office if you have any questions. Mrs. Proctor can be reached at aproctor@tchs.net or (337) 235-5711 ext. 108.

• Seniors are encouraged to check the scholarship board for announcements that are posted in Room 20 on a daily basis.

1995 FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHT VIDEO

The Teurlings Athletic Department is making an effort to remember the last 14 football seasons through a series of professionally developed highlight videos. Each video will be created in chronological order, beginning with the 1995 season.

We are proud of the tradition Teurlings Football has developed over the years, and we feel these videos are equal in quality to what was accomplished on the field. The 1995 video is filled with: highlights, pictures, newspaper articles, and music from that year (Approximately 5 minutes in length).

Each DVD is being offered for $15.00. If you are interested in purchasing a copy of this DVD, please send a check to the Teurlings Athletic Department at 139 Teurlings Drive, Lafayette, La. 70501.

We have already created the 1995 video; to begin on the 1996 video we will have to raise money to help with cost. Teurlings will not make a profit on these videos; the money is strictly being used for future videos.

Accomplishments from 1995:

Sonny Charpentier's first season as Head Coach
10-0 season after a 1-9 season in 1994
District Champions
12-1 final record; State Quarterfinalist
Over 15 All District Players
6 All-Acadiana – All-Parish Players
2 All-State Players

The Fifteen Promises of Mary to Christians Who Recite the Rosary

- Whoever shall faithfully serve me by the recitation of the rosary, shall receive signal graces.
- I promise my special protection and the greatest graces to all those who shall recite the rosary.
- The rosary shall be a powerful armor against hell, it will destroy vice, decrease sin, and defeat heresies.
- It will cause virtue and good works to flourish; it will obtain for souls the abundant mercy of God; it will withdraw the heart of men from the love of the world and its vanities, and will lift them to the desire of eternal things. Oh, that souls would sanctify themselves by this means.
- The soul which recommend itself to me by the recitation of the rosary, shall not perish.
- Whoever shall recite the rosary devoutly, applying himself to the consideration of its sacred mysteries shall never be conquered by misfortune. God will not chastise him in His justice, he shall not by an unprovided death; if he be just he shall remain in the grace of God, and become worthy of eternal life.
- Whoever shall have a true devotion for the rosary shall not die without the sacraments of the Church.
- Those who are faithful to recite the rosary shall have during their life and at their death the light of God and the plenitude of His graces; at the moment of death they shall participate in the merits of the saints in paradise.
- I shall deliver from purgatory those who have been devoted to the rosary.
- The faithful children of the rosary shall merit a high degree of glory in heaven.
- You shall obtain all you ask of me by the recitation of the rosary.
- All those who propagate the holy rosary shall be aided by me in their necessities.
- I have obtained from my Divine Son that all the advocates of the rosary shall have for intercessors the entire celestial court during their life and at the hour of death.
- All who recite the rosary are my son, and brothers of my only son Jesus Christ.
- Devotion of my rosary is a great sign of predestination.
