THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER FOR PARENTS OF TEURLINGS CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

From Our Principal .

In this ever-changing world, the questions arise, "Just what can I count on these days? Which of our institutions are solid providers of those values and skills that will help our children to grow and prosper in the next century?" At Teurlings Catholic High School, we are proud to do our part in restoring your faith in education. In partnership with our owner parishes, we are committed to the mission which promises the opportunity for all children to develop their God-given talents and achieve their highest potential.

For more than 49 years, Teurlings Catholic has been a presence in the Lafayette Catholic Community. We have a stable and consistent environment in which young people are provided a Catholic education. We have seen many generations of young people pass through our walkways who have been beneficiaries of the opportunities offered by Teurlings Catholic. The spirit and commitment of these students, their parents and grandparents, teachers, religious, and many others before them are what make Teurlings Catholic a special place. It is now your turn to offer and/or gain from these opportunities and to add to the atmosphere that is Teurlings.

Since the school's inception in 1954, many things have changed. Certainly teaching styles, technology, physical structures, ownership, and student population stand out as major changes. But, over the course of these many years, the truly important things about Teurlings Catholic have not changed. A strong Catholic based academic program of studies, exemplary athletic and extra-curricular activities, and a community outreach pledge second to none.

Four important dates are on the calendar for the month of September. On Thursday, September 16, following a prayer service, the Fall Academic awards will be distributed to qualifying students. Progress reports will be sent home on Friday, September 17, but some students might hold those until after the weekend has passed. Can you guess why? On Monday, September 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the Rebel Dome, we will sponsor a panel consisting of a local judge, child psychologist, and drug screen vendor to discuss adolescent behavior. Finally, on Wednesday, September 29 at 6:00 p.m. in the Rebel Dome the guidance department is sponsoring a meeting for all senior parents to discuss scholarship and TOPS opportunities.

Thank you for choosing to send your most precious gift to us at Teurlings Catholic. You can count on us to prepare your child for their future. You can count on us to be strict, compassionate, diligent, flexible, demanding, understanding, and caring. In the Olympic Games, they count how many medals a country gathers to determine if they were successful. At Teurlings Catholic, we count our graduates and alumni. Our count is rising every year.

TIPS FOR FRESHMAN PARENTS!

Welcome to all of our new freshman parents! If you have had a child attend TCH previously, welcome back! When a student enters high school, it can be just as scary for the parents as it is for the student. I put together some tips to help you through the first few months, and hopefully help your child have a great start!

#1) Read the School Newsletter. Everything you want to know (and sometimes don't want to know) is in the monthly newsletter. It is packed full of information that parents need to know. You can find out when grades come out, what time dances end, who to contact for assistance. In addition, you receive an updated monthly calendar.

#2 Get your Child Involved. If your child has too much free time on his or her hands, this could lead to trouble. Don't be afraid about your student balancing school work, sports, and clubs. Clubs and sports teach them to be more responsible and organized. Going home and watching TV every day, teaches them to be lazy. Your students will only get out of high school what he or she puts into it! Check out our school handbook for the many extra curricular offerings -and we do have a lot of them!

#3) Friends. Know with whom your child is hanging around and don't be afraid to ask questions. If they ask to spend a night, call the parents and ask about the friend's curfew and restrictions. If your child gives you a story, check it out!

#4) Communication. Nagging or asking a million questions is not communication. LISTEN. Let your child tell you about his or her day on their own. Let them know that you are interested in what they have to say, even if it isn't juicy gossip. You will find that they will enjoy sharing things with you more.

#5) Set Expectations. Talk to your child about the pressures of sex, drugs and alcohol. Let's face it. It is everywhere. Most students feel that their parents have no clue about what goes on and some may be right. Keep educated about popular drugs and what goes on today, and talk to your child about it. Tell them often about your expectations regarding these issues. Don't just assume they know.

#6) Go with your Gut! If you notice any major changes in grades, grooming, hygiene or attitude, don't brush it off as normal teen problems. If the change is big enough to notice, face it and get some help from the school. If progress reports or report cards seem too good to be true, call the school and double check. Don't ignore anything that you find suspicious. Usually, your first instinct is right, because you know your child better than anyone else.

#7) Valuables or $. Do not allow your child to bring valuable items or large amounts of money to school. We do have occasional theft, especially in the locker rooms. All students have a locker with a lock, and can keep equipment, valuables, jewelry and money locked up during lunch and P.E. Thieves can only steal what is lying around, so part of the responsibility is on the student. Better safe than sorry!

#8) Uniform. Check your child's hair and uniform to make sure that they are following the dress code. If in violation, they will get written up for detention or even Saturday school.

#9) Parental Involvement. Join us for our school Mass on Thursdays, attend athletic events and special functions or join a parent group. Even though your child may act like they don't want you here, it means a lot to them to see you around!

#10) Bullying. If your child is coming home from school or practice upset because of teasing or bullying, please let us know. The only way we can handle the situation is if we know about it. Please call me at Ext. 102 and we will try to solve the problem in a way that is best for your child. We do not tolerate bullying or harassment on our campus.

GOOD LUCK, AND HERE'S TO A WONDERFUL YEAR!

ACADEMICS

Marty Heintz - Assistant Principal

Normally, my first column of the school year deals with the theme “a fresh start.” I still think it is important that everyone – students, teachers, and parents – remember we are starting fresh and last year is history, but I wanted to address another issue first. I’ve dealt with this as a parent, as a teacher, and now as an administrator. It’s a simple question, but one all struggle with: “When should a parent step in and when should a student be expected to handle a problem with a teacher or academics on his/her own?”

As an administrator and teacher, I’ve seen the extremes at either end of this spectrum. There are parents who fight every battle for their child, and there are others who let their child sink or swim at will. Yes, I know the common perception is that freshman parents need to be the battle fighters and senior parents need to let their students go it on their own. Neither produces an ideal situation for either the students or the teachers.

Consider the freshman problem first. Instead of mom calling the teacher every time the student has an issue in class or with a teacher, the student should be encouraged to talk to teachers themselves. Mom or Dad certainly has the right to step in if the student’s efforts are unproductive; of course, if there is a question of a student’s safety, a parent has to step in immediately. However, part of the maturation process is learning to deal with adversity, learning to compromise, and learning to act independently. If students are never given the opportunity to handle some things on their own they miss an important phase in that maturation process. Before you rush to the phone when a low grade on a paper comes home, ask your son or daughter to talk to the teacher. Follow through and monitor the situation and, by all means, call the teacher if your child does not receive an adequate response from the teacher or if the child cannot or will not approach the teacher on his or her own. And, please remember to contact the teacher before you call the administration. No teacher (just as employees in any other type of business) appreciates someone going over her head without first contacting her and attempting a solution to a problem. If the situation cannot be worked out with the teacher, THEN call the administration.

Now, the other extreme, the senior parent who has not seen a report card, who did not come to “Back to School Night” or teacher conference day, and who takes the student’s word for it that “things are ok at school.” My comment for you? If I paid as much in tuition as you do, I would want to see how my student is doing. I would know when report cards are issued and I would expect to see them. Seniors are certainly approaching adulthood, but they are not quite there yet. They, too, need supervision and monitoring. Go through the same process with them that freshman parents should embrace. Let them attempt to handle their normal teacher-student problems and academic snafus, but be ready to step in if necessary. As an administrator, nothing is more frustrating for me than to tell a senior’s parents that their child is not going to graduate or qualify for a scholarship. Especially when the parent thought this was a sure bet, only to be met with the comment “but he told me everything was fine.” I ask my standard question, “Did you see the report card?” and get the answer, “No, but he told me it was good.” Do not take just the student’s word; make sure you see report cards and take appropriate action. Enough said.

Finally, this is the start of a new school year and the slate is wiped clean to some extent for all our students and teachers. I reminded the juniors during orientation, for instance, that they have 50% of their high school experience left, plenty of time for a low GPA to be fixed with some hard work and effort. Even seniors have 25% of their academic time left at Teurlings and that 25% can go a long way towards improving a GPA to TOPS standards.

Encourage your child to start the school year off in a positive fashion, hit the books running, and it will be a great year.

Freshman Orientation

On Thursday, August 12th, students of the TCH Class of 2008 stepped foot on campus to begin their four-year journey through high school. This class is the first in the school's history never to have some students who previously attended TCH in junior high. The TCH Diversity Team helped lead the 9th graders in a diversity training seminar. TCH would like to thank Mrs. Candy Spillers and the Diversity Team for their roles in making orientation a success!

2004-05 Campus Ministry Theme

The Campus Ministry theme chosen this year is “I Love You This Much”. The idea stems from the quote, “I asked Jesus...How much do you love me? And Jesus said, ‘This Much.’ Then He stretched out His arms and died.” Our theme serves as a reminder that Jesus made the ultimate sacrifice, His life, so that we may have life. He has proved His love for us, and now we must prove our love to Him through our daily meetings, community service, and love towards one another.

Senior Class Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry has spent the first week of school preparing for a year of ministry and service to the community! Each senior religion class has a focus for the year: Pro-Life, Good News, Community Outreach, Campus Outreach, Prayer & Worship, or Retreat Ministry. Through each ministry, seniors will be reaching out to others in a positive way. A few ministries the seniors have decided on are the TV 10 Food Drive, Nursing Home visits, Special Olympics, Retreats, helping the troops and many more.

Steubenville South Catholic Conference

Several TCH students attended the Steubenville South Catholic Conference this summer in Alexandria, LA. Over 1,000 teens attended the event to experience Jesus in a deeper and more intimate way. The theme was “Rise Up: A Catholic Revolution”! The experience was eye-opening and fulfilling to all who were present. Special thanks to the following people for bringing openness, light and humor to the weekend: Mrs. Ramey Badeaux, Mrs. Erin Boudreaux, Ms. Tiffany Dugas, Mrs. Faye Leblanc, Lindsay Ezell, Teren Parrino, Brittney Cardon, Laura Citron, Samantha Debevec, Camille Gauthier, Chad Songy, Marie Champagne, Teryn Clause, Rachael Leblanc, Randi Leblanc, Kyle Campbell, Maggie Durio, Michelle Junot, Elyse Leblanc, Cassie Viator, and Kristen Viator.

Retreat Ministry

The Retreat Ministry Class recently attended a weekend in Broadus, Texas at a house on Sam Rayburn Lake planning for the upcoming year and bonding as a team. The weekend was full of fun... boating, jet skiing, tubing, bees, much laughter and many tears and will be remembered by all! Special thanks to Mrs. Erin Boudreaux and Ms. Tiffany Dugas for sharing this fun time with us. Thank you Mrs. Madanna Broussard for the wonderful red beans & rice! Also, many thanks to Mr. & Mrs. Ezell for allowing us to use your beautiful home. The following seniors will be planning and leading Retreats and Rebel Revivals this year: Stacey Allen, Jeremy August, Melissa Breaux, Lacey Broussard, Brittany Cardon, Laura Citron, Samantha Debevec, Dustin Dought, Colin Duhon, B.J. Fuselier, Camille Gauthier, Katie Griffith, Ke'Oaklann James, Liz Leday, Dan Miller, Madeline Pena, Chad Songy, Justin Sylvester, and Amber Trahan.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

AHERA Asbestos Management Plan

The Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act of 1996 (AHERA) mandates that all Local Education Agencies have all their facilities inspected for asbestos and that a Management Plan be developed. The Management Plan illustrates the location of Asbestos Containing Materials (ACM) and describes the course of action to take in regard to managing this material.

Since 1994, all diocesan schools have had a prepared AHERA Management Plan which is available for review at the Principal's Office. Teurlings Catholic has been inspected by school staff every six (6) months and reinspected by a Certified Management Planner every three years, most recently in 2003. There were not any abatement projects or response actions taken the previous school year, 2003-2004.

Allergic to Pesticides

If your child is hyper-sensitive to the following pesticides used on the Teurlings Catholic Campus, please notify Ms. Collado in the front office. Pesticides: Cypermethrin, Cvanomethyl, and Diphacinone.

Immunizations

State Law requires all students enrolled in school must take Booster immunizations every 10 years. Once your student has taken his/her booster immunizations, please send an updated record to the front office.

Prayer for New Students

God our loving Father, we ask you to bless our new students and help them to feel welcome and a part of our school community. Remind students and teachers who are "old timers" to be helpful and courteous to our new students. At the same time, help our newcomers to find their way around and adapt to their new classes easily. Bless them with many friends and much success in all that they do. We pray in the name of Jesus, the Lord. Amen.

Message from Nita Guillory, HONOR COUNCIL Sponsor

The Honor Council would first like to welcome each student at Teurlings Catholic back to school. We are very excited and have already begun preparing for the upcoming school year.

For those students new to the campus, the Honor Council is an organization that promotes values. Members are nominated by their teachers and then voted on by their peers. These members promote values and attempt to discourage any lying, cheating, stealing, or harassment that occurs on campus. Students and teachers report to the Honor Council with a complaint or concern, and, if necessary, the Honor Council will conduct a trial.

The Honor Council's goal this year is to promote the importance of a moral and value-oriented life through character education. The HONOR COUNCIL feels that character education is essential in creating a strong, healthy learning environment. Thus in order to help students develop character, every month the HONOR COUNCIL will choose a value and present it to the school with posters and various announcements.

The value for August was PATIENCE. Each week of the month, the HONOR COUNCIL had an activity focusing on that value.

In addition, the HONOR COUNCIL is continuing to promote positive actions by awarding $25 monthly for the "GOOD DEED" that was reported and drawn that month. No matter how big or small, no good deeds should go unnoticed.

Senior members of the 2004-2005 HONOR COUNCIL are Laura Citron, Dustin Dought, and Camille Gauthier. New members will be chosen by their peers and teachers for exhibiting strong morals and remaining in good academic standing. In the past, there have only been three members per grade level, but this year there will be five members at each grade level. Nominations and voting will be held in September. Freshman nominations and voting, however, will occur after Christmas.

Please look, in next month's newsletter for the newly elected members, August's "Good Deed", and September's character value!
